

Formed in 1941, the Association for Asian Studies (AAS) is a scholarly, non-political, and non-profit professional association open to all persons interested in Asia and the study of Asia. With approximately 8,000 members worldwide, representing all regions and countries of Asia and all academic disciplines, the AAS is the largest organization of its kind.

Benefits of Membership

- Networking opportunities with a very large and diverse group of Asianists
- Member Only access on the AAS website, featuring:
  - fully-searchable AAS Member Directory
  - access to employment listings
  - student section
  - the Journal of Asian Studies Online
- Asian Studies Newsletter (4 issues)
- Journal of Asian Studies (4 issues and online access to all articles since 1941)
- Discounts on AAS and Cambridge University Press publications
- Reduced registration for the AAS Annual Conference with over 300 formal panel sessions
- Eligibility for grant programs and book subvention awards

The world's oldest living civilizations, and its largest countries lie in Asia. American involvement with and study of Asia, including its politics, economics, and culture, increased dramatically in the 1940s and has continued to develop rapidly to this day. The Association for Asian Studies, founded as The Far Eastern Association, was at the forefront of this movement.

In the past 25 years, the AAS has gone through a series of reorganizations to better serve the broadening disciplinary, professional, and geographical interests of its membership. Through its publications, online resources, regional conferences and annual meeting, the AAS provides its members with a unique and invaluable professional network.

Membership Fees

The AAS has a graduated dues structure. All memberships are individual and based upon gross income from all sources, not limited to one's salary.

The "Student/Under $15,000" level is limited to full-time students and part-time or foreign scholars with genuinely low incomes because the AAS must significantly subsidize this area of membership. We rely on our members to select the appropriate payment level.

Join online at www.asian-studies.org or complete the form on the back and return it along with payment to:

Association for Asian Studies, Inc.
825 Victors Way, Suite 310
Ann Arbor MI 48108 USA

Tel: (734) 665-2490
Fax: (734) 665-3801

We accept Visa, MasterCard, American Express, and checks or money orders payable to the AAS in U.S. funds. Membership is non-refundable.

For more information, please contact the AAS Membership Manager at dilozor@asian-studies.org or visit the AAS website.

Join online at www.asian-studies.org

Help shape the future of Asian studies!